Dear Editor,

There are some mistakes in the math formula. There are also some mistakes in the citations. It differs from my last submission. Maybe it was caused by the split of the article into two columns. I have given the highlight and written the correct one on the attached file. I also attached again the file in Docx document, and also a pdf document for your reference. Or maybe if you don't mind, you can send the "word version" to me. So I will edit and recheck it through the document.

Thank you very much.

Best regards

Sisca Octarina
