International Journal of Image and Graphics

Decision: Accept - Pending Source Files

Dear Dr. erwin,

In order to successfully publish your paper in IJIG, we need the finalized manuscript of your paper. Therefore, please prepare the finalized manuscript strictly according to the format of IJIG, and submit it to the author submission system. If you have any questions, please email to Mr. Hu, who is the editorial assistant of IJIG (huzhijuncool@163.com). We will put your paper online (Please click: <https://www.worldscientific.com/toc/ijig/0/ja>) as soon as you send us your finalized manuscript. Thank you very much for your support.

You should at least send us the following materials: copyright.pdf and paper.doc (or paper.zip). That is, choose one of paper.doc and paper.zip. Here, paper.zip contains all the materials when you made the paper.tex. Please pack all these materials into paper.zip and send to me so that we can fine-tune the format of your paper.

There is a place for handwritten signature in copyright.doc. You need to leave this place blank when you fill in the copyright.doc, print the copyright.doc, sign the printed document by hand, and then finally scan the signed document into copyright.pdf.

At the end of the paper.doc (or paper.tex), we need biographies of all authors. Please be sure to include photos of all the authors.

Note: You must modify your manuscript according to the format of the template. If the publication of your paper is delayed due to the format problem, the consequences shall be borne by the author yourself.

The deadline you submit your finalized manuscript is Sep 14, 2021.

Dear Bambang Suprihatin,

Greetings from World Scientific Publishing and thank you for your contribution to International Journal of Image and Graphics \(IJIG\). You may like to know that your article has been published in IJIG's Volume No. 23, Issue No. 01, Article No. 2350006, Year 2023.

The DOI for your article is: 10.1142/S0219467823500067. You could use <https://dx.doi.org/10.1142/S0219467823500067> to connect readers of your personal webpage (if you have one) to the article's abstract page, or forward it to your peers.

We are pleased to attach a complimentary copy of the Version of Record of your contributed article for your personal use only.

Sharing your paper

Please note that while the abstract of your paper is available online free-of-charge, the full text is not. Please do not post this Version of Record in personal, institutional or 3rd party web depositories, unless it is an open access article. We would, however, be glad to help you share the full text of your article. All you would need to do, is provide us with their email contacts, and we will send them a link that grants them access to the paper.

Open Access: It is the best way to increase accessibility of your paper. We would appreciate it very much if you can consider taking a short survey \(less than 5 questions\) on this issue.

Recommending the journal

We would also take this chance to ask for your further support if your library does not currently have a subscription. Please do recommend to your librarian to carry a subscription to the journal so that you and your colleagues will have automatic access to your future articles, and all the exciting articles published by other researchers in the field in International Journal of Image and Graphics \(IJIG\). A request form is available online.

Signing up for Alerts

Additionally, if you would like to be alerted on the publication of the next journal issue, visit <https://www.worldscinet.com/ijig> to sign up for the RSS feeds or Table of Contents notification via email. You can also create your own custom Alert so that you will only be alerted when contents specific to your interest has been published.

To do so, simply

1. do a Search (keywords that is representative of your interest),
2. name the search,
3. set the frequency for the alert,
4. and 'Save'.

Thank you for your attention and best regards,
Cindy Lee (Ms)
