Reviewer A:

Basically this research is good, especially in the use of sources. it's just that it might be better if it is added with an approach, especially in the economic aspect or about urban development, such as the concept of an approach to global history.

Make sure all sources are using Mendeley. Some sources seem unformatted. This section should also be added to the page on which this source was cited.

This article is still a historical description. The author needs to add a

Reviewer B:

This writing is good, but there are still some mistakes, especially in the citation aspect, some parts don't seem to use Mendeley. then this article should also be translated by an English linguist, so that some grammatical errors can be avoided.
