LICENSE TERMS DEFINED

Accepted Manuscript (AM): The final version of an author's manuscript that has been accepted for publication and incorporates all the editorial changes made to the manuscript after submission and peer review. The AM does not yet reflect any of the publisher's enhancements to the work such as copyediting, pagination, and other standard formatting.

arXiv: An electronic archive and distribution server for research article preprints in the fields of physics, mathematics, computer science, quantitative biology, quantitative finance, and statistics, which is owned and operated by Cornell University, <http://arxiv.org/>.

Commercial and noncommercial scholarly use: Noncommercial scholarly uses are those that further the research process for authors and researchers on an individual basis for their own personal purposes. They are author-to-author interactions meant for the exchange of ideas. Commercial uses fall outside the author-to-author exchange and include but are not limited to the copying or distribution of an article, either in hard copy form or electronically, for resale or licensing to a third party; posting of the AM or VOR of an article by a site or service where an access fee is charged or which is supported by commercial paid advertising or sponsorship; use by a for-profit entity for any type of promotional purpose. Commercial uses require the permission of AIP Publishing.

Embargo period: The period of time during which free access to the full text of an article is delayed.

Employer's web page: A web page on an employer's site that highlights the accomplishments and research interests of the company's employees, which usually includes their publications. (See also: Personal web page and Scholarly Collaboration Network).

Exclusive License to Publish: An exclusive license to publish is a written agreement in which the copyright owner gives the publisher exclusivity over certain inherent rights associated with the copyright in the work. Those rights include the right to reproduce the work, to distribute copies of the work, to perform and display the work publicly, and to authorize others to do the same. The publisher does not hold the copyright to the work, which continues to reside with the author. The terms of the AIP Publishing License to Publish encourage authors to make full use of their work and help them to comply with requirements imposed by employers, institutions, and funders.

Full Credit Line: AIP Publishing's preferred format for a credit line is as follows (you will need to insert the specific citation information in place of the capital letters): "Reproduced from [FULL CITATION], with the permission of AIP Publishing." A FULL CITATION would appear as: Journal abbreviation, volume number, article ID number or page number (year). For example: Appl. Phys. Lett. 107, 021102 (2015).

Institutional repository: A university or research institution's digital collection of articles that have been authored by its staff and which are usually made publicly accessible. As authors are encouraged and sometimes required to include their published articles in their institution's repository, the majority of publishers allow for deposit of the Accepted Manuscript for this purpose. AIP Publishing also allows for the VOR to be deposited 12 months after publication of the Work.

Journal editorial office: The contact point for authors concerning matters related to the publication of their manuscripts. Contact information for the journal editorial offices may be found on the journal websites under the "About" tab.

Linking to the Version of Record (VOR): To create a link to your article in an AIP Publishing journal or proceedings, you need to know the CrossRef digital object identifier (doi). You can find the doi on the article's abstract page. For instructions on linking, please refer to our Web Posting Guidelines at <https://publishing.aip.org/authors/web-posting-guidelines>.

National Laboratories: National laboratories are sponsored and funded by the U.S. Government but have independent nonprofit affiliations and employ private sector resources. These institutions are classified as Federally Funded Research and Development Centers (FFRDCs). Authors working at FFRDCs are not considered U.S. Government employees for the purposes of copyright. The Master Government List of FFRDCs may be found at <http://www.nsf.gov/statistics/ffrdclist/>.

Personal web page: A web page that is hosted by the author or the author's institution and is dedicated to the author's personal research interests and publication history. An author's profile page on a social media site or scholarly collaboration network site is not considered a personal web page. (See also: Scholarly Collaboration Network; Employer's web page).

Peer X-Press: A web-based manuscript submission system by which authors submit their manuscripts to AIP Publishing for publication, communicate with the editorial offices, and track the status of their submissions. The Peer X-Press system provides a fully electronic means of completing the License to Publish. A hard copy of the Agreement will be supplied by the editorial office if the author is unable to complete the electronic version of the form. (Conference Proceedings authors will continue to submit their manuscripts and forms directly to the Conference Editors.)

Preprint: A version of an author's manuscript intended for publication but that has not been peer reviewed and does not reflect any editorial input or publisher enhancements.

Professional Publication Ethics: AIP Publishing provides information on what it expects from authors in its "Statement of ethics and responsibilities of authors submitting to AIP Publishing journals" (<http://publishing.aip.org/authors/ethics>). AIP Publishing is also a member of the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) (<http://publicationethics.org/>), which provides numerous resources and guidelines for authors, editors, and publishers with regard to ethical standards and accepted practices in scientific publishing.

Scholarly Collaboration Network (SCN): Professional networking sites that facilitate collaboration among researchers as well as the sharing of data, results, and publications. SCNs include sites such as Academia.edu, ResearchGate, and Mendeley, among others.

Supplementary Material: Related material that has been judged by peer review as being relevant to the understanding of the article but that may be too lengthy or of too limited interest for inclusion in the article itself. Supplementary Material may include data tables or sets, appendixes, movie or audio clips, or other multimedia files.

U.S. Government employees: Authors working at Government organizations who author works as part of their official duties and who are not able to license rights to the Work, since no copyright exists. Government works are in the public domain within the United States.

Version of Record (VOR): The final published version of the article as it appears in the printed journal/proceedings or on the Scitation website. It incorporates all editorial input, is formatted in the publisher's standard style, and is usually viewed in PDF form.

Waiver: A request made to a university or institution to exempt an article from its open-access policy requirements. For example, a conflict will exist with any policy that requires the author to grant a nonexclusive license to the university or institution that enables it to license the Work to others. In all such cases, the Author must obtain a waiver, which shall be included in the manuscript file.

Work: The "Work" is considered all the material that comprises the article, including but not limited to the abstract, tables, figures, images, multimedia files that are directly embedded within the text, and the text itself. The Work does not include the Supplementary Material (see Supplementary Material above).

Work Made for Hire: Under copyright law, a work prepared by an employee within the scope of employment, or a work that has been specially ordered or commissioned for which the parties have agreed in writing to consider as a Work Made for Hire. The hiring party or employer is considered the author and owner of the copyright, not the person who creates the work.
