Notes to the author: 📄

Dear authors, First of all, thank you for submitting your manuscript to Check List. I will have to return the MS owing to the reason that it is not as per Check List guidelines and NGD template. Please make a general revision of the text and pay special attention in the following notes: Bold in main text only in: Subheadings, sections and subsections, Figure captions and Table captions. < > Table out of format please see the guidelines. Two or more fully identical citations (the same authors and years) are distinguished by adding the letters 'a', 'b', 'c', etc. after the year: Change (Iqbal 2003a, b, c,) to (Iqbal 2003a, 2003b, 2003c) for example. Review:

I appreciate the effort by the authors to investigate an important and threatened population of Irrawaddy dolphins, using rapid survey techniques. Also their compilation of historical data to reveal the current situation is noteworthy. However I do not believe the manuscript is publishable in its current form. I have provided many insights for its improvements in terms of scientific writing - However, I strongly believe the authors need further support by a scientific English editor, in making this manuscript publishable. Please find the reviewed version attached below in which the changes are tracked and comments have been suggested. I wish the authors good luck in bringing this important manuscript up to a publication!

Dear Fauziyah,

Congratulations on the acceptance of your manuscript, but now that I have read and copy edited your work, I see that there is a great need for improvements. Your manuscript could have benefited from a thorough revision of the English prior to its original submission. I would appreciate your cooperation in improving it now. Please review my edits, make revisions (explain what you intended to write if I have not comprehended something correctly!), and return the revised manuscript to me. There are many errors in format and incomplete information in the References section; please spend time on fixing this. Also, because you failed to add each and every author of your manuscript to the online system, the CRediT roles cannot be completed! I will need this information now and we cannot publish your work without it. I also found that Figure 2 is a copyright work, and since you have not indicated that you can use this image with permission, it must be removed! Please ask if you have any questions about any of my comments and concerns. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Robert Forsyth

Dear Fauziyah,

Thank you for revising your manuscript. I have prepared the layout of your article. Please note that there are some revisions needed to the maps; first and most important, the image quality of the maps must be improved so that the smallest type is clear and legible. Currently it is not. The minimum resolution that we will accept is 300 pixels per inch but even so, text and lines must not be overly pixelated. I have marked the changes that I'd like to see made in the first map in the PDF, but these also apply to the second map as well.

Additionally, please check the figure numbering and figure mentions in the text to ensure that all are correct now that a figure has been removed. Also, please check the entire text again for anything that needs correcting, as you will not be able to make changes after you have accepted the proof and the article has been published. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Robert Forsyth
