There are some steps on review process
 1. Abstract review and acceptance
At the begin, the abstract is submitted by the online system which is available on the conference page. The submitted abstracts are then collected by the committee for review one by one regarding the format, language and suitability of the conference scope. The abstract review was carried out by an internal reviewer. If there are any discrepancies, the abstract will be sent back to participants via email.
 2. Submission of Full Paper
Secondly, uploading of full paper may only be done by participants who attend and present their research activities during the conference. This upload and revision activity was carried out on May 31-June 28 2021
 3. Revision of Full Paper
At the revision stage, participants will be requested to make revisions based on the input given by the reviewer, this input is generally in the form of format, language and continuity of each discussion.
 4. Peer review of Full Paper
At the Fourth stage, full paper previously submitted through system were reviewed following a single blind peer review process. The papers were sent to reviewer that consisted of 27 reviewers according to topic of the papers and reviewer's competency. Reviewer was given around 2 months to conduct review on content, language, and format of the paper based on IOP Conference Series. At this stage, Reviewer submit a decision for the acceptance of the papers for publication in IOP Conference Series.

5. Revision of Reviewed Full Paper

As the end, the submitted papers were then subjected to proofread stage and check for similarity using Turnitin program. Subsequently, papers were prepared for submission to IOP Conference Series.
