The screenshot shows a Gmail interface with a dark green theme. The left sidebar contains navigation options: Mail, Compose, Chat, Spaces, and Meet. The main content area displays an email from 'JPES' to 'me'. The email text includes a response to a query about the review process and a list of accepted articles. The first article is titled '1. The Effect of Aqua Aerobics Exercises on Fibroblast Growth Factor 19 and 23 Levels [FGF-19, 23] in Young Men' and lists authors: SITI BAITUL MUKARROMAH<sup>1</sup>, SOEGIYANTO<sup>2</sup>, MOHAMMAD ARIF ALI<sup>3</sup>, GUSTIANA MEGA ANGGITA<sup>4</sup>, IPANG SETIYAWAN<sup>5</sup>, RUMINI<sup>6</sup>, RONNY LESMANA<sup>7</sup>, AZIZ MARDANARIAN ROSDIANTO<sup>8</sup>, KOMARUDIN<sup>9</sup>, YULINGGA NANDA HANIEF<sup>10</sup>, NGUNYEN TRA GIANG<sup>11</sup>, SHANGHEON HENRY PARK<sup>12</sup>. The second article is '2. Improving critical thinking ability using teaching game for understanding' by MEIRIZAL USRA<sup>1</sup>, WAHYU INDRA BAYU<sup>1</sup>, SOLEH SOLAHUDDIN<sup>2,3</sup>, and KEVIN OCTARA<sup>1</sup>. Affiliations are provided for each author group. The email ends with 'Best regards'.

Okay, I can understand your position regarding our articles. I am more interested if all the review process will be done by the JPES Editor, so we can directly report the evaluation result from the JPES Editor. We are interested, but is it possible if the number of manuscripts is not more than 20 articles?. Kind regards
