Review 1:
The article presents an interesting topic. The aim this article was analyze the role of organic sulfur in the formation of CH<sub>4</sub> gas emissions at coal spontaneous combustion. The author made no mistakes. Reactions 5 and 7 are wrong. In addition, the article requires editorial corrections. Please refer to the instructions for authors. Improvements include:
1) Units of measurement should be presented simply and concisely using System International (SI) units
2) References need to: Duncan W. 2013. Thermal energy from a biogas plant for leachate treatment. Energies, 15(3), 753-767
3) 9.919 ppm should be 9.19

Dear Justina Kujawiska,

In connection with the acceptance of the draft of my journal entitled The Role of Organic Sulfur in the Formation of Methane Emissions (CH<sub>4</sub>) on the Spontaneous Combustion of Coal (JEENG-03834-2023-02). I would like to thank the editor manager and reviewer JEENG. I will immediately send the costs for publishing this journal according to the payment address JEENG. But there is something I need to explain that when writing chemical formulas, such as in the title, keyword, and abstract files it still says CH<sub>4</sub> and/or CS<sub>2</sub> (in the abstract) it should write CH<sub>4</sub> and/or CS<sub>2</sub>. Therefore, can I send back the file, especially the title, keywords, and abstract or can the editor manager help me to be able to change it. Thank you for your cooperation.

Next, I attach files related to CH<sub>4</sub> and/or CS<sub>2</sub> in the title, abstract, and keywords.

Yours faithfully,
